MEMPHIS APPEAL.

THE SOVEREIGNTY OF THE STATES.

We have received, by the politeness, we presume, of the author, a copy of a pamphlet entitled, "Sovereignty, Allegiance and Secession, an Essay on the Constitution and Government of the United States"; by the Hon. William Hunter, Judge of the Criminal Court of Memphis.

In preparing and presenting to the public this work, of forty-three pages, the author professes to have been influenced "by a desire to supply what has long appeared to be a great public want in the political literature of the country, an analysis of the fatal heresies of State Sovereignty, State Allegiance and Secession, upon a legal and Constitutional basis, which would present the subject in a form accessible to the mass of the people."

However erroneous the assumptions and arguments of the author may be, his brochure is at least calmly and dispassionately written; and it is entitled to respectful consideration at the hands of the critic, because it appeals to reason and not much to passion and prejudice.

How little the author has studied the subject on which he writes, it is not ill-natured to say, appears from his preface, in which he asserts that with the exception of Mr. Webster's speech on the Foote Resolution, a speech of Robert J. Walker, and a lecture delivered in Ohio, "nothing has appeared of any value, calculated to inform the public mind upon the most important question to every American citizen, the nature and character of his own Government."

It is somewhat singular that one preparing himself to enlighten the people on that subject, should have been ignorant of the great debate between Mr. Webster and Mr. Calhoun, upon their antagonistic resolutions offered in the Senate, as to the nature and character of the government, in which the whole subject was exhausted, and by which the opinions of men were settled everywhere. We may well doubt whether one thus illy informed is likely to shed much light on the subject of which he treats, and which, a brief examination will show, he mistreats.

It is a pity that Judge Hunter should have felt himself at liberty to say that "it is a fact too patent to be disputed, that among the Southern people, particularly that class which has been identified with slavery and the rebellion, there is not only no attachment for, but a decided antipathy to, a republican form of government." What other "form of government," then, do they prefer? Do they wish a monarchical or oligarchical one? The assertion thus broadly made is too ridiculously preposterous, to have other effect on a Southern reader than to provoke a smile of pity for the hallucination which could so blind and bewilder one desiring "to supply a great public want." The people of the South are far more devoted to the principles of republican liberty than those of the North are; and if separated from the North, the Southern Republic would endure for centuries after the Northern States had been consolidated into an Empire.

The author in question, after uttering this nonsense, and adding some words in support of his assertion, and some of declamation as to slave-tyrants, and the the great battle of slavery against the nation, commences his work.

He first quotes the definitions of sovereignty, from Webster, Bouvier and Story; and then enumerates as the essential attributes of sovereignty, the principal powers exercisable by the General Government, without which, he says, a State is necessarily without sovereignty, that consisting in the possession and enjoyment of these attributes alone; or, as he says at page 35, that sovereignty, from its very nature, cannot belong to a State which recognizes a superior, or acknowledges the authority of higher power as the Supreme power of the land.

Petitio principii, or begging the question, is the commonest trick of dialectics; but to be at all successful, it must be skilfully and not clumsily done. Of course, if it be admitted that the States did not form and adopt the Constitution and enter into the Union, but the people of all the States, as one people, imposed the Constitution and Government on the States—if it be admitted that in thus creating a nation, the States accepted a superior created by the people, the other propositions of Judge Hunter become easy of demonstration.

But that is the very question at issue. If the Constitution is a compact between the States, by which they do not create or accept a superior, but agree with each other to exercise certain powers of sovereignty jointly, and not to exercise them severally, exercising them jointly by means of agents selected by them or their respective peoples, and by a corporation, the United States, in which the States are stockholders, than the States retained all their sovereignty, but exercise its principal powers jointly.

The author then quotes portions of the Articles of Confederation, "between the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, etc.," by which it was declared that the "Confederacy" should be styled "The United States of America," and this provision was made to prevent any possible misunderstanding as to the nature of the "Confederation and perpetual Union" between the States:

"Each State retains its sovereignty, freedom and independence; and every power, jurisdiction and right which is not by this Confederation expressly delegated to the United States in Congress assembled."

The meaning of this article is so perfectly plain, the meaning of the articles of Confederation is so clear, that one is amazed to see it egregiously misrepresented by any man who can read our English language. The States united and confederated together, by a league and compact. The States, as units, assembled in Congress, each having one vote. The phrase, "the United States" was simply equivalent to a recitation of the names of the individual States composing the Confederacy. The Delegates who ratified and confirmed the articles of Confederation, for their "constituents," declared themselves to represent their States. Each State expressly retained the whole of its Sovereignty; and yet Judge Hunter claims that they surrendered it.

The Constitution of 1787, in consequence of the forced change of the original plan for consolidation and a National Government, and the vagueness and incoherence of some of its provisions, and the ambiguous language of its preamble, made it possible for men honestly to differ as to its meaning, and the parties to it, and the nature of the Government created by it; but it hardly seems possible to mistake the meaning of the Articles of Confederation. But the utter want of the logical faculty is not uncommon; there is no limit to the hallucinations of the intellect; and perhaps it would be unjust in any case to believe that a man was not in earnest in laying down the most preposterous propositions.

The author then enters on an argument to show that the States had obtained no sovereignty, and therefore could retain none. It would be answer enough to this to say that if these were not Sovereign, they could not confederate and so constitute a Sovereign Nation. To prove his proposition, he assumes that the Colonies, seeking independence, and in order to obtain it, "transferred their allegiance to a third power," the United States, by whose arms they were liberated; that by the articles of confederation they "surrendered to the United States, every important and substantial element of Sovereignty, so far as they could surrender the same, and that surrender was perpetual." It is difficult gravely to discuss a proposition so utterly absurd, so directly in the teeth of the articles themselves. Without any argument at all, it coolly begs the whole question, and assumes what needs to be proved, since it is absolutely denied by the articles themselves, and the declaration of the States that they retained their Sovereignty. There was no transfer of allegiance to a third party, no surrender of any attributes of Sovereignty. There was a league or simple partnership between the States, and an agreement between them to exercise certain powers jointly and refrain from exercising them separately. The people did not, as the author says, confer these powers on the United States and prohibit them to the States in the articles of Confederation. To assert this is simply to misrepresent and distort the articles. The people did not transfer their allegiance from Great Britain, "not to the States, but to the power known as The United States in Congress assembled." The Colonies declared themselves independent, became States, and then confederated together.

A Judge, at least, ought not to argue legal propositions, without taking the trouble to look at the authorities. In McIlvaine v. Coxe's Lessee, 4 Cranch 209, the Supreme Court of the United States decided that the several States composing the Union became entitled, on the 4th of July, 1776, to all the rights and powers of sovereign States, so far at least as respected their internal regulations; and among these rights was that to the allegiance of their citizens. The opinion of the Court was delivered by Judge Cushing, a Massachusetts Federalist. The treaty of peace, he said, contained a recognition, not a grant, of the independence of the States. The opinion of Judge Hunter will hardly be deemed to outweigh this decision.

Another ludicrous proposition is, that, because sovereignty is with the people, and unless they confer it, a Government cannot obtain it, and as the people of no State, by its Constitution, conferred on their State Government any of the essential attributes of sovereignty, therefore the States never obtained any sovereignty.

The Government of a State is not the State. The people of a State are the State; and the State is sovereign because the people are. The people do not confer sovereignty on the State.

The author denies that Great Britain "in acknowledging our independence," could confer sovereignty and independence on the several States. The States were parties to that Treaty; and they required Great Britain to acknowledge each State, by name, as free, sovereign and independent. Her acknowledgement was a recognition of their claims.

As the States did not surrender any attributes of sovereignty, by the Articles of Confederation, but themselves continued jointly to exercise them, we need not notice the declamation based upon the assumption of such surrender. We think that Judge Hunter is the first discoverer of such surrender; and that no one, before him, had ventured on so bold a misrepresentation of the Articles of Confederation. If he decides on the bench as he argues about these articles, justice must be finely administered in his Court.

Having thus, as he thinks, shown that the States were egregiously mistaken in imagining that they ever were sovereign, the Judge proceeds "to fresh fields and pastures new," and treats of the history of the formation of the Constitution.

He quotes Story, who declares that, under the articles of Confederation, Congress "in peace was possessed of but a delusive and shadowy sovereignty, with little more than the empty pageantry of office;" who recites the powers it did possess, and those it did not possess, and could not exercise; Judge Hunter's argument that all the essential attributes of sovereignty were surrendered by the States to the United States. In the language of another writer, quoted by him, Congress had exclusive power for many purposes, without being able to execute one of them; borrow money, but not pay a dollar; coin money, but not purchase an ounce of bullion; make war, but not raise a single soldier. They could raise no revenue, levy no taxes, enforce no law, secure no right, regulate no trade, and pay nothing to their judges or foreign ministers.

To what respect is a dissertation entitled, which, undertaking "to supply a great public want in political literature," asserts that the States surrendered all the essential attributes of sovereignty to the United States, in the next breath makes these quotations, and adds that the United States had no coercive authority to carry into effect their own constitutional measures; and that the Government of the Confederation had no efficiency, "if that may be called a government which possessed not one solid attribute of power?" Nay, he continues, for page after page, to make quotations expressly stating that the States did retain their sovereignty and sovereign powers.

We reserve for another day the dissection of the residue of this pretentious pamphlet. Our readers may think that neither the name it bears nor its matter and substance entitles it to notice; but Judge Hunter is said to be a student, and the merit of a work depends upon itself and not upon the position or political or literary reputation of its author. For the pamphlet itself and its arguments, they are utterly illogical, and the fallacy of the latter is at once detected and easily exposed; but the logic is quite as good as that of any arguments ever made on the same side. The doctrines established by Mr. Webster are so directly contradicted by history and by the very letter of the Constitution, and do so pervert the meaning of that instrument, and so beg the question, that it has always been found impossible to make any other than a dishonest argument in support of them. The weakness of Judge Hunter's argument is but the reflection or consequence of the weakness of his course. Between him and others who have argued on the same side before him, the only difference is one of the greater or less degree of plausibility and the skilful use of words to confuse and mislead.

HONOUR OF THE RADICAL PRESS.

Really, one becomes curious to know to what depths of infamy men whose souls are infected by Jacobinism, can descend.

It is the custom of the journals which preach the poisonous doctrines of that monstrous faction, to publish telegrams and letters from the South, describing the state of public feeling there on political subjects, reciting apocryphyal outrages committed on harmless Union men, and the fearful dangers to which these pious lambs are exposed; and recounting private conversations of those elegantly and classically denominated 'ex-rebels;' In all which lies ordinarily figure far more numerously than truths. The main inducement for thus purchasing manufactured lies and distorted truths intermingled, is to demonstrate the necessity for reconstruction and disfranchisement. Of the manner in which these dispatches are got up, an instance is thus given by the Savannah Republican, as we find it copied into the New York Times:

Immediately after the first vote on Impeachment was taken, Mr. Hayes, the editor of that paper, received the following dispatch:

To John E. Hayes, Editor of Republican:

Please telegraph to Press to-morrow (Sunday, 17th) a short dispatch of the feeling in your city on the reception of the news from Washington to-day. I will reciprocate if you desire. Answer.

W. FORNEY, Jr.,
Managing Editor Philadelphia Press.

To this request Mr. Hayes at once replied. His reply was changed, however, in almost every sentence, and so printed as to convey a meaning almost precisely opposite that which he had really given. The following are the two versions—the first being the dispatch as sent to the Press—the second being the dispatch as changed and printed in the Press:

AS SENT.	AS PRINTED.
SAVANNAH, GA., May 17, 1868 }	Special to the Philadelphia Press.]
To Philadelphia Press.	SAVANNAH, May 17
The telegrams announcing probable acquittal of President Johnson received with joy by Conservatives. Radicals and Copperheads disgusted and alarmed at the news. Intense excitement prevails among all classes to hear final decision, which is generally believed will be conceded by both parties President will be acquitted. The patriotic and unselfish course of Fessenden, Grimes and other Republican Senators has had most salutary effect upon the minds of the soldiers. The party within Southern people, and will prove beneficial to our whole country. (Signed) JOHN E. HAYES.	The news announcing the probable acquittal of Andrew Johnson was received here with joy by the respectable people. The Union men are cast down and alarmed; they fear the result. The so-called Conservatives of the city are more outspoken than ever, and we confidently look for an early expression of their views and feelings in favor of Congress. Their pecuniar interests demand it. The Southern Express Co. has already received word of the removal of Agents in Georgia to return home. To stay here has long been scarcely possible. Now the Union men will be allowed to remain, intense excitement prevails everywhere to hear the final decision, but it is generally conceded by both parties that the cause of Jeff. Davis has this time been triumphant.

The Times says:

By this deliberate fabrication the Press, falsifying its own news from the South, endeavored to lash the public mind in the Northern States into a frenzy of alarm and indignation over the President's acquittal. Newspapers that would not join in this most dishonest and unprincipled crusade were denounced as in sympathy with the rebel cause, and the Press has loudly demanded that they be expelled from the Republican party.

The times are sadly out of joint, when a man can be deemed fit to associate with honest men of any occupation in life after perpetrating such a forgery. But it may safely be predicted that it will rather increase the admiration and love of Radicalism for the Editor of the Press and Chronicle, "both daily."

LITURGY OF THE ANCIENT AND ACcepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States. By Albert Pike, 33d, sov. Grand Commander. Two splendidly illustrated with Chromo-lithographic plates and numerous wood engravings, Part II, 4th to 14th degree, $5 00.

"It would seem to have been unnecessary after giving the above title-page to say anything further in the way of recommendation. The name of the author would itself be a sufficient guarantee of its worth. Ill. Bro. Pike, by his learning and contributions has done as much to elevate the standard of Masonic literature and extend a knowledge of its symbolism, ethics and history as any other living man. This book, in its particular department, may justly be considered a master-piece, embracing matter not only useful to the Masonic student of every grade, but to men of science in the highest literary field of the present age. Notwithstanding this book has been preceded by several of a similar character, yet to Bro. Pike alone is due the honor of first exploring this branch of Masonic literature and of opening to the admiration of the Craft its vast storehouse of knowledge and beauty. This work contains the degrees of the Ancient and Accepted Rite from the fourth to the fourteenth inclusive, is elegantly illustrated with chromo-lithograph engravings, showing all the jewels, costume, furniture, etc., belonging to each degree. No expense has been spared in getting it up, and it is without doubt the most elegant, as well as one of the most useful books, ever offered to the Fraternity."

Published and for sale by the Masonic Publishing and Manufacturing Company, 432 Broome street, New York, and Booksellers generally in the United States.

Copies of the above for the Memphis Brethren are ready for delivery at the Editorial Rooms of the APPEAL, 14 Jefferson street, upstairs. 1w Jan29

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

[Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

By direction of the Democratic Central Committee, a State Convention is called, to assemble at the city of Nashville, on the 9th day of June, 1868, for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend the National Democratic Convention, which will meet at the city of New York, on the 4th day of July next.

The people of the different counties throughout the State, are requested to hold County Conventions and appoint delegates to represent them in said State Convention.

All persons opposed to the policy of the Radical party are cordially invited to participate.

Democratic and Conservative newspapers of the State are requested to publish this call.

By order of the Central Committee,
THOS. R. JENNINGS, Chm'n.
L. D. WALKER, Sec'y.

A GRATIFYING SCENE.

The most noteworthy incidents at the Conservative Democratic county meeting on Monday evening, were the speeches of Col. Condee and Mr. Edgington, both of whom deprecated the class of people pretending to represent Northern sentiment in the South, and vice versa. They modestly but firmly expressed themselves as fully and thoroughly identified with the great movement which seeks to impress upon the Government the features and expression it wore when first shaped by its founders, and moulded and fashioned by the exquisite sculpture of those whose province it was to complete the vast monument of patriotism. They adverted to the constantly reiterated misrepresentations of the true state of feeling at the South, manufactured for the basest and meanest of selfish purposes, and denounced the affectation of loyalty by those who desired to conceal their incompetency, or their determination to steal. They spoke like gentlemen and patriots, who had been true to the Union and the Constitution in the time of the struggle, and indulged and cultivated no resentments after peace was declared. Such should be, if it were not, the prevailing sentiment at the North, and they expressed their satisfaction that it equally predominated at the South, save among those who for private ends sought to keep alive a spirit of bitterness and controversy.

These expressions, so manly, and generous, and national, were heartily responded to by the very best meeting in point of character and intelligence we have seen in Memphis. The announcement that there were three hundred of "the boys in blue" in and around the city, who had fought bravely through the war, and who heartily and earnestly sympathized with the Democracy in hostility to Radicalism, was received with an enthusiastic welcome, such as became brave men, who when truce sounded, might divide with each other the comforts of the bivouac.

CHASE'S NOMINATION THE TOPIC AMONG NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

ALBANY, May 29.—The assembling of the Senate as a Court of Impeachment, and the meeting of the Canal Board have called together a number of prominent Democrats.

The movement for Judge Chase for President is the general topic of conversation, and Gov. Seymour has expressed himself in favor of giving it respectful consideration, and his views were seconded by many influential Democrats. The New York delegation will be called together about the 10th of June, for consultation.

Such telegrams are floating through the country, very good bait for quid nunes, but caviare to the more discreet and sensible. That Chase has the least chance of a nomination by the Democratic party, we cannot for a moment believe. His antecedents forbid any such impression. For whatever he may have done to be thankful for in the impeachment business, he has already been paid in floods of gratitude. We do not wish to contribute to the unsettling of the public mind which has pretty strongly indicated its preferences. It is not a dernier resort to be sought as a candidate against the Radicals, but a thorough statesman possessing the popular confidence. The fruits of an almost accomplished victory may be thrown away or irritered into pieces by sought-for combinations that cannot fructify. We do not believe the country would be satisfied with such.

Flax.

We were shown by Dr. Burritt, yesterday, several stalks of flax, grown on the plantation of Mrs. Robinson, in the Big Cove. It lacks a good deal of being the average height of the flax grown in Kentucky and Missouri, but seems to be of good texture, and we do not doubt that the staple could be raised here, to supply in a great measure, the home consumption. It is easily raised.—Huntsville Independent.

Flax can doubtless be raised as represented, but we have always understood that it is one of the most exhausting crops that can be put in the ground. Why, we cannot tell. It is capital for land intended for grass, and for that reason is frequently used to get the ground in good order that it may be set in timothy or clover.

THE CINCINNATI Commercial says: "More illicit distilling is carried on in East Tennessee than in any three other States. Some counties have thirty or forty stills whose owners violate the revenue laws without hindrance, and a correspondent declares that he can count a dozen men who have lost their lives in endeavoring to enforce the laws." Is that because Brownlow is in that section, and is blind to things so near home?

Again Postponed.

It is understood that the trial of Mr. Davis has been postponed until October, and then—it will probably be postponed again!

TROUBLES OF JACOBINISM.

We find the following in the Chicago Times:

A Congressional Jacobin caucus will be held on Monday evening, to consider when Congress shall adjourn, and whether any change shall be made in the revenue laws during the present session, and to lay out the programme for the Presidential campaign.

Aside from the reduction of the tax on whiskey, of which there now seems to be a probability, there is but little reason to believe that Congress will attempt any financial reforms. Upon all questions of finance, and upon the Jacobin policy of reconstruction, the ruling party must fight the battle of this summer on the grounds it now occupies.

The question which at this time most sorely perplexes the majority in Congress is the one regarding the admission of the excluded States. The opinion seems to be daily gaining ground with Jacobin Congressmen that, if those States be admitted, and the President be left in control of the military, unrestrained by the reconstruction acts, the whites in the South will control enough of the negroes to carry the electoral votes of all the rebel States, except Louisiana and South Carolina, for the Democratic ticket. On the other hand, not to admit the excluded States will be for the Jacobin party to confess, on the day of election, that its reconstruction policy has been a blunder as well as an infamy.

We know that some of the Radical leaders in Congress were in great doubt, a few days ago, whether it would do to admit the reconstructed States before the Presidential election. They not only thought it pretty certain that Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia, if not Arkansas and Texas, would vote against the Chicago nominations; but they had grave doubts, also, whether the North would stomach the election of a President by negro votes against a Northern electoral majority the other way. We had it on good authority that one prominent Senator distinctly told a Delegation of Scalawags from Virginia and Georgia, that none of the Southern States would be admitted until after the election. But the bill admitting Arkansas with her rejected Constitution has passed, and all the rest, we presume, will follow. The whole matter is one about which the Jacobin leaders are greatly exercised and distressed. They have the wolf by the ears. It is difficult to hold on and dangerous to let go; and they think, we suppose, with the Irishman, that the best way to avoid danger, is to meet it plump in the face. The device of trammelling the negro States with the condition that they shall cease to be in the Union if they ever deprive the negroes of the right to vote has been resorted to in sheer despair, and with a full knowledge that under the Constitution it is mere idle thunder, a menace that cannot be carried into effect. Michigan cannot have rights in that respect which are denied to Arkansas.

The man who does not believe in a retributive Providence, is virtually an Atheist; and that belief must be wanting to the Radical leaders. The success, or that which seems to be such, of their own measures, will in the end prove the damnation of their party. It is thus the Devil deals with those who serve him; and he never had more faithful servitors than Stevens and Butler. For those who so serve him, he turns the fair fruit of success into the apples of Sodom, filled with ashes and the salt of the Dead Sea. He scourges them with their own scourge, and makes their success defeat, and their own measures the instruments of their swift ruin and destruction. The withes with which the Philistines bound Sampson were snapped by him like threads of flax; and when they had cut off his hair, in which his strength lay, and put out his eyes, and caused him to grind for them in their mills, and brought him from his toil to make sport for them, he pulled down the Temple of Dagon on their heads. If this be a parable, it will be profitable for the North to study it.

An Unkind Father.

The many who have sympathized with the charming little actress, Lotta, will be called upon to draw their spotless "wipes" when they learn what a scurvy trick her remorseless father has played her, as announced:

Mr. Crabtree, the father of the actress Lotta, left St. Louis, Saturday night, after having plundered his daughter's trunk of $25,000 in Government bonds, $10,000 in greenbacks, and all her jewelry. He proposes to go to England and take his ease.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—Brown, the child murderer, was executed at Hudson, N. Y., on the 30th ult.

—The New York Yacht Club will have its annual regatta on the 18th.

—A paper is to be established (or attempted at least) in the city of New York called Everything Nice.

—Bishop Tuttle, of Idaho, is to fill the place of the late Bishop Hawkins, in the Missouri Episcopal Diocese.

—The next synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church is to be held at Cedarville, Ohio.

—Mrs. Henry Lewis, aged forty, hanged herself at Berlin, Ohio, on the 25th ult., leaving a husband and several children.

—The journeymen bakers of New York and Brooklyn were to have a strike on Monday last for less work and more pay.

—The fare from New York to Providence is but fifty cents, and to Boston one dollar. So much for competition.

—None of the forty persons poisoned at Helena by arsenic in their ice-cream have died.

—An exchange says: "Had the vote been taken on the remaining eight articles of impeachment, many of them would have failed by several votes instead of one, and it was for this reason that those articles were ignored."

—This is the day set for the trial of Jefferson Davis. As the "impeachment" is over, it is to be hoped this farce will be brought to a speedy end—if it ever is to have one.

—In two days three steamers and three sailing ships brought to New York 3598 immigrants.

—A new thing in ear-rings is made in Paris, in the shape of a pair of enormous, hairy spotted spiders, with a fly caught in their feelers.

—Quick work was made on the 30th ult., by Shadrack Bell and John Rook, of Dorchester, Delaware. Quarreling at dinner, Rook seized an axe and cut Bell to pieces, surrendered, and then hanged himself.

—They can do things in Russia as well as nearer our own meridian. A tutor employed in a family recently beat out his pupil's brains, shot the father and mother, and finished by killing the cook, footman and house-keeper.

—As an evidence of negro worship, the Republicans of the First ward, in Washington, have nominated a colored man for the Common Council, having previously nominated one for Alderman.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Maj.-Gen. Hancock and staff, Brevet Brig.-Gen. Ewing and staff and the House Military Committee called at the War Department to-day and paid their respects to Gen. Schofield.

The President to-day informed the House that the ten days Constitutional limit having expired, the bill making appropriations to supply the deficiencies in the execution of the reconstruction laws had become a law without his signature.

The official vote elects Brown (Republican) Mayor by seventy-four majority.

At the War Department this morning the usual routine of business was transacted. The guards which have been stationed around the building were not on duty, Gen. Schofield having yesterday ordered their removal.

Schofield attended a cabinet meeting this morning, at which all the other members were present.

Hon. Anson Burlingame, with the members of the Chinese Embassy, called at the State Department this morning, and had an interview with Mr. Seward.

The following communication has been received at the Indian Department:

"CHEYENNE, DAKOTA TERRITORY, June 1.

"Hon. J. Taylor, Commissioner of Indian Affairs:

"We concluded a treaty with the Ogalalas on the 25th ult. Thirty-six chiefs and leading warriors, including those of the Red Cloud band, signed the treaty. Seventeen Minocangen chiefs and warriors also signed. I now think there will be no fear of difficulties."

The following is the text of the resolution offered in the Senate to-day: To exclude from the Electoral College the votes of certain Southern States; that the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, respectively, shall not be admitted to representation in the Electoral College for President and Vice President of the United States, and no electoral vote shall be received or counted from such respective States, unless at the time prescribed by law for the choice of electors, the people of such States shall, pursuant to the acts of Congress in that behalf, have since the 4th day of March, 1867, adopted a Constitution for State Government under which a State Government shall be organized and shall be in peaceful operation; and such States shall also have become entitled to representation in Congress, pursuant to the acts of Congress in that behalf.

The Senate, this afternoon, after a debate, reported the nomination of Hon. Henry Stanbery as Attorney-General. It is understood that his re appointment to that office was opposed by Senators, principally on account of his hostility to the reconstruction acts.

The supplemental national currency act was then called up and postponed.

Edmonds called up the bill providing for appeals to the Court of Claims, which was materially amended by providing for the appointment of two Assistant Attorney Generals, at salaries of $4000; by abolishing the offices of Solicitors and Deputy Solicitors of the Court of Claims; by authorizing the heads of departments to send claims of over $30,000 to the Court of Claims at discretion, and forbidding the prosecution of any claim in the Court of Claims, or any process in regard to which, is pending in another court.

It passed, after a sharp opposition from Hendricks and Buckalew.

On motion of Wilson, the bill to continue the Freedmen's Bureau for one year from the 16th of July was taken up and slightly amended, and then postponed until to-morrow.

Yates called up the bill to provide a temporary government for the Territory of Wyoming, but at the instance of Morrill, of Maine, it was laid aside to allow him to call up the bill to supply the deficiencies in the appropriations for the fiscal year ending June, 1868. Several amendments reported from the Committee on Appropriations were inserted including the following: To supply the deficiencies of the appropriations for collecting the revenues from customs for the half year ending July 30, 1868, $18,000,000.

Hume strenuously opposed this, and condemned the Secretary of the Treasury in a lengthy explanation of it, which was read.

At the instance of Morrill of Maine, his motion to strike it out failed. The bill passed and goes to the House for concurrence.

At four o'clock, Conness moved to go into executive session; and after a session of upwards of an hour, the Senate adjourned.

The case in favor of the sitting member was presented by Kerr, of the minority committee, who occupied two hours and a quarter in argument in its support.

He was followed by Lawrence, of Ohio, who supported the claim of the contestant.

The debate was continued by Woodward in behalf of the sitting member, and by Morgan himself.

Without taking a vote on it the House adjourned.

THE gentlemen nominated as delegates to the Nashville Democratic Convention, are requested to meet at the editorial room of the Avalanche on Thursday, 4th June, at 11 a.m., to consult and arrange for going to Nashville.

CAMORS, A NEW BOOK.—We noticed a few days ago that a translation of Octave Feuillet's new book "Camors" was in press, and would soon be issued. Messrs. Church & Co. have received a few copies of it, and have sent us one, which we have perused with much pleasure. The translation, which is by our former townsman, Gen. Jordan, is a very fluent and faithful reflex of the original.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made with the Memphis and Ohio Railroad and the Memphis City Transfer Company to take all who wish to attend the picnic and hop at Raleigh to-morrow at $1 50 the round trip. Omnibuses will be at the National Cemetery for each train. Buy the round trip tickets at the railroad depot. All who wish to spend a pleasant day at these famous springs are advised to attend the picnic to-morrow.

BROOKS, NEELY & CO.—The card of the above firm will be found in another column. As prompt and energetic business men, they are well known in this community and surrounding country. Keeping a large and well selected stock of groceries and plantation supplies, they are enabled to fill orders at the very lowest market prices. Their trade is rapidly extending—having adopted that good old motto of "quick sales and small profits," which is sure to win. Purchasers would do well to call on them at No. 276 Front street.

TWO RACES ON FRIDAY.—First Race. There will be either four or six horses to harness, the owners to drive, mile heats, best three in five. Premium, fine gold watch.

Second Race.—Match between Geo. Steeger's gray horse, and Black Sam, for $100 a side.

Circulars will explain the particulars. Those who delight in racing will find in these contests sufficient interest to draw them to the Association Course.

EXAMINATION OF EDMONSON.—E. A. Edmonson, one of the parties in the terrible affray of Monday evening, was brought out of jail on a warrant issued by 'Squire Miller, and carried before 'Squire Walton yesterday afternoon. He was charged with being accessory to a murder, and the motion was to have him committed without bail. The case was argued for the State by 'Squire Miller very ably, but not being prepared to prove certain technicalities, he asked for a continuance of the case. 'Squire Walton accordingly continued the case until to-day at 2 o'clock, and allowed the accused to go free on his own recognizance until that time.

A FILTHY HOLE.—We would respectfully call the attention of the sanitary police, who are so extremely active in spying into private yards and alleys, and so ready to arrest citizens who are unintentionally derelict in carrying out their sanitary orders, to the condition of the public alley between Second and Third streets, where it crosses Jefferson, on the south side. There is a hole close to the sidewalk at least a foot deep, filled with the foulest and filthiest of mud, which, when stirred up by some passing cart-wheel, stinks with an odor as mephitic as ever was exhaled by the Serbonian bog. It is enough in itself to create a pestilence in the neighborhood, and it is a crying shame, an infamous outrage on the public generally, but more especially on those in the neighborhood, that day after day this reeking pest-hole should be allowed to stand, and not only stand, but accumulate filthiness. Attend to it, gentlemen of the sanitary police, immediately.

INFAMOUS.—We have received the following note from a correspondent at Collierville, Tenn.:

Messrs. Editors: Justice demands that the public should know the following facts: A cow belonging to Mrs. Louisa Foster, (who lives in Marshall City, Miss., three miles northwest of Gwinn's Mills,) was bitten by a rabid dog. The owner saw the cow bitten, and two of her nearest neighbors, whose names I send you, for use if necessary, heard her say that she did. She would not use the milk in her family, but sent her off to Memphis to be sold.

I wish you would warn the butchers and others against purchasing the said cow, which is of a dark red, and looked to be about fifteen years old. Her calf was three or four months old.

JUSTICE.

Collierville, Tenn., June 1, 1868.

If the foregoing be true, and we see no reason to doubt the statement of our correspondent, the affair is one of the most infamous that ever came under our notice, and the party who has deliberately perpetrated such an act upon the public, deserves the severest punishment that the law allows.

THE TOURNAMENT.—We learn that this fete champetre is being prepared on a grand scale, and promises to be a great success. Already ten Knights have enrolled their names, and as many more are "standing on the brink," ready to compete for the high honor of selecting Queen of Love and Beauty and the additional incentive of being enabled to present her a gem of the first water worthy to be worn, in rivalry of eyes that "stole the livery of heaven." The Race Grounds have been placed in a proper condition, and can be now used by those desiring to practice the manege and the graceful and precise use of the lance. Some expert riders have entered for the prizes, and it is expected that New Orleans, Mobile, Natchez, Vicksburg and other points below will be bravely represented on the occason. If the track is ready, it is thought particularly desirable that Knights should avail themselves of it, and then become expert in the use of the lance. Knights entering will be required to pay an entrance fee of ten dollars before they can practice on the track.

POLICE ITEMS.

—There were eight arrests reported up to five o'clock yesterday at Causey street station. Thirty dollars were assessed in fines and eleven dollars collected.

—'Squire Griffith yesterday placed A J. Pollock and W. Triplet (white) under bonds of $2000 each to answer to the charge of stealing 100 pounds of meal from Messrs. Cunningham & Co.

—Mrs. Sullivan was arrested at the instance of some negroes for trespass. 'Squire Griffith bound her over to answer to-day.

—Martha Walker had her liege lord, Wm. J. Walker, arrested yesterday for cruelty and abuse. He was put under bonds by 'Squire Black to keep the peace for six months.

—Thomas Brennan had Maria Barber (colored) arrested for assault and carried before 'Squire Black, who will examine the case to-day.

—'Squire Walton issued a warrant against Henrietta Wilson (colored) yesterday, at the instance of Betty Avent, (colored), and placed her under $500 bond to keep the peace.

—Four arrests were made up to eleven o'clock last night at the Adams street station. All for trifling offenses.

GREENBRIER WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, VA.—It would seem, to glance at our column of new advertisements, as if old times had come again. Reopening of the Virginia Springs! What thoughts these few words conjure up!

What Southerner is there, who has any love for the dear old land, whose heart does not beat with an unwonted emotion when he hears the name of Virginia Springs? What one is there, that, in those glorious days before the wreck and ruin of war came upon the land, ever spent a summer, a month, a week, nay, even a day, amid the beautiful and grand mountain scenery around "the Virginia Springs," that does not feel his whole heart go forth with a deep and powerful yearning to behold these scenes again, and live over for one short hour, if no more, those golden glorious days? Dark and gloomy though the present, the skies grow bright and the air balmy and odorous, and a thousand joyous sounds arise around us, conjured up by memory from that far off happy past; again we see the blue mountain peaks, the quaint picturesque cabins, the huge hotels,—again we hear the merry laugh, the song and music, and again the dances, the flirtations, the old buried love affairs, come floating up fresh as if they had happened but yesterday! Alas for the far past, which cometh not again!

But joys that we've tasted may sometimes return, and we have now a dim undefined hope that we may again be allowed to visit those scenes of which we have been dreaming. Last year the White Sulphur, the most famous of all the Virginia Springs, "whose waters are for the healing of the people," was opened for the first time since the war, and hundreds of Southerners, although the whole country was pressed for money, flocked thither. They found all the old natural attractions, but the hotel accommodations were not all that could be wished. This year, however, will witness the complete resurrection of the once famed Springs, and they will again come forth in the glory of youth. Messrs. Peyton & Co., have made every arrangement to accommodate fully fifteen hundred guests, and fill again the vast dining and dancing halls with life and beauty. But while we are thus running on, the "devil" is waiting for "copy," and we will close, by referring our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. Peyton & Co.

JEFFERSON STREET MARKET.—There is no one question in which all classes of the community are so deeply and vitally interested, as in the supply of good, wholesome, fresh food, more especially meats and vegetables; and he who does anything to improve that supply, whether in quantity or quality, is a public benefactor. Such was the thought that suggested itself to us yesterday, as we walked slowly by Jefferson street market; and while thus thinking, what should we hear but the bluff and hearty voice of the very man to whom our thoughts pointed, Charlie Williams, calling us to come in and look at the improvements that he had been making. We accepted the invitation, and on entering, found him busily engaged in trying to drive the last fly out of a huge cage made of mosquito netting, with which he has surrounded his stalls. He has erected around his meat tables a light frame-work of wood, over which is stretched a strong mosquito netting, extending from the wall to the floor, forming, as we said, a complete cage, from which, if the flies are once excluded, they have no means of getting in again. This protects the meat from being fly-blown, and is also a protection to those who work inside from these terrible nuisances. He opened his wicket a little as we came in and allowed us to enter, and then showed us his ice-box, or more properly, ice-room, to describe which as it should be, however, would take more space and time than we can well afford. But it is a great institution, the advantages of which are apparent to every one who will take the trouble to pay Charlie a visit. You can purchase your round of beef, or your fruit or vegetables, in the morning, and leave it in this huge ice-box until you wish to use it—his market being open all hours of the day from 4 to 11 o'clock. Customers at Jefferson street market can also be sure of not purchasing diseased meat, as Charlie considers his reputation as of more value than money.

THE AMENDE HONORABLE.—We clip the following from the Friar's Point Coahomian, of a recent date. The gentlemen are both well known in Memphis, and it will be gratifying to their many mutual friends to know that all difficulties and unpleasantness between them are thus smoothed away. The letter of Col. Chambers shows him to be a thorough gentleman, for we take it to be one of the highest attributes of a gentleman to be as prompt to atone for an injury offered by him to another, as to resent one when offered to him;

Personal.—The following letter has been handed us by a friend with the request from Col. H. C. Chambers, that it may be published, as he wishes to make amends to Col. Miller, for any words harshly spoken during their meeting at Memphis some time ago. We publish it with pleasure as we value and esteem both gentlemen, and are glad to know that the bond of friendship which once united them remains unbroken;

MEMPHIS March 10, 1868.

Col. John G. Miller:

Dear Sir: On a recent occasion I addressed to you some excited political remarks, applying to your supposed views language which my friends have said, and my own conscience suggested, was unprovoked and unjust.

In the midst of regrets for the occurrence, I have had the consolation of remembering that I expressed at the time the respect and good will I had entertained for you, and that you informed me I was under a misapprehension of your sentiments on public questions.

You have no doubt truly felt that your character had not been at all injured by the occurrence, and hence have not thought it worth while to ask for an unnecessary apology.

I tender one now, to satisfy my own sense of propriety, as well as to afford you whatever gratification it can give, and intend it to be as ample as you can desire. Respectfully yours,

H. C. CHAMBERS.

MOYERS & DEDRICK'S CLAIM AGENCY. Among the many lines of business developed or created by the late war, none has assumed such dimensions, or is of so much importance, as that of collecting claims against the U. S. Government; and in no branch of modern business science have the advantages of combination, order, and personal influence, been made so tellingly apparent. How many a poor fellow, after fighting or working hard for his mere pittance of pay, would have been compelled to sacrifice and lose even that pittance had it not been for these excellent institutions—claim agencies—one of the most comprehensive and powerful of which is the firm whose name heads this notice.

These gentlemen have lately bought out the business of the claim agencies in Vicksburg, and have branch offices in Nashville, Natchez, New Orleans and Washington. Any claims entrusted to their care will meet with the most prompt and careful attention; and as they possess such unusual facilities for collection, quick and full returns are almost certain. Parties having business in their line cannot do better than to pay them a visit at their office, No. 46 North Court street, and they may rest assured that it will be attended to with expedition and dispatch.

To Travelers.—Accident Insurance can be obtained of H. P. Butler, General Agent of the original Travelers' Insurance Company, at 15 Madison street. $5000 for 25 cents per day. Long time policies at a large discount.

A CARD.—In consequence of a misapprehension existing, the undersigned takes this method of informing his friends, the citizens of Memphis, and the public generally, that he has had no connection with the firm of Jacob J. Peres & Co. since July 1, 1864.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Proceedings of the Board, Saturday, May 30, 1868.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present—B. Lewis, President, James E. Merriman, Dr. White, Assistant Commissioners, and John League, Clerk.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

The following orders were adopted:

That W. H. Bond, overseer, be allowed six spades, four wheelbarrows, a dirt scoop, for work on Raleigh road. That said Bond be held responsible for the same, and turn them over to his successor in office, when his term expires.

Cunningham, Wicks & Malone's tax list was reduced from $25,000 to $15,000.

Sam. W. Lyon was appointed overseer of portion of the Portersville and Island No No. 40 road.

A series of communications were presented by John League in regard to the draymen's license, and a request that $120 be appropriated to refund the amount of extra taxes paid by certain named draymen.

It was ordered that the money be appropriated.

Appropriations amounting to $4,492 48 in the aggregate, for pay-rolls were also ordered.

Ordered, That the President of this Board advertise for thirty days for proposals for purchase of the county bonds, authorized by law to be issued by the county. That all parties proposing to purchase be invited to put in sealed proposals, stating what amount of said bonds they will take, and at what rate, and also whether they propose to pay in cash or in county warrants, or to reserve the option of paying in either or partly in each as they may choose, said parties so proposing to be in all cases liable on their offers as valid and legal contracts.

Ordered, That the Board do now adjourn, to meet when called.

FIRES MONDAY NIGHT.—There were three alarms of fire rung between midnight and four o'clock night before last. The first two were false alarms, but the third was quite an extensive fire.

About four o'clock yesterday morning flames were discovered breaking forth from the rear of Joseph Bozziano's barroom, situated on the corner of Jefferson street and the alley which runs in above the New Memphis Theater. The adjoining building, formerly occupied by Messrs. Hicks & Smith as a livery stable, soon caught also, and by the time that the engines arrived on the ground, the two buildings were enveloped in flames. Shortly after arriving on the ground a stream was gotten upon the fire, and in a very short space of time the flames began to succumb to the deluge of water which the steamers poured on them. The roof of the livery stable was completely destroyed, but beyond that very little damage was done to it. But Bozziano's saloon did not escape so easily. His entire stock was destroyed, with quite an amount of bar fixtures and furniture.

The livery stable was vacant; consequently the loss will be very small in comparison. Mr. S. A. Norton owned both premises, and his loss is said to be about $25,000. He had been uninsured—no office having been found willing to take a risk on the property, it having been fired no less than three times in six months. Mr. Bozziano's loss will reach $1800 or $2000, on which he had $1000 insurance.

The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary. The most curious part of the affair is that Capt. Joyce, who was burned out on Sunday night, had yesterday made arrangements to take the vacant stable. It is quite a lucky escape for him.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE NATIONAL
COMPANY.

A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.
The Capital is to be
$10,000,000,
In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of
$100 PER SHARE,
But the actual amount to be paid in cash is
$35 Per Share,
And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up
CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,
Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.
The present Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.
THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.
The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The act of Congress under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.
One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.
ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED
The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip
25,000 MILES OF WIRE,
Which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.
The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

MEMPHIS APPEAL
BY TELEGRAPH.
Noon Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, June 1, Midnight.—The election here is claimed to have resulted in the choice of Given (Democrat) for Mayor. Four wards out of seven are also claimed by the Democrats. Two negroes are elected to the Council in the First ward. The Republicans do not concede the election of Given.

Some trouble occurred by negroes attempting to prevent a colored man voting the Democratic ticket, during which a negro was hurt by a horse which threw a police officer—the latter also being slightly injured. Otherwise the election was peaceable.

The railways between this city and New York have consolidated their through traffic so as to be under the charge of one head.

The Chief of the Idaho Indians had an interview with the President yesterday.

NASHVILLE, June 2.—The Democratic Convention met here yesterday. Hon. Nell S. Brown presided, and spoke at length. Hon. H. S. Foote offered resolutions, which were adopted. They declared that it is the duty of all true friends of constitutional liberty to support the Democratic cause; that the purposes and principles of Radicalism are incompatible with our free institutions; that the late war originated in the prevalence of extreme opinions and disregard of the line of demarcation between the Federal Constitution and the reserved rights of the States and the people; that to restore the Government to the Democracy is the proper way to secure a return to the admirable system of checks and balances formerly existing; that the Convention have confidence in the National Convention, to meet on the 4th of July, both as to the candidates and the platform, and therefore express no opinion as to either; that the Chicago platform proposes to establish a permanent inequality of rights between the Southern and Northern States which cannot be maintained except by military despotism; that the reconstruction laws of Congress, if enforced, and an election for President takes place in the Southern States, it would be a shame and mockery not entitled to the smallest respect, and should not be allowed to effect the result of the contest; that the five-twenties and bonds bearing interest in currency should be paid in greenbacks; that the wrongs of the disfranchised of Tennessee should be laid before the National Convention; the Democracy sympathize with President Johnson, and regard his acquittal as a great and signal triumph of principle. This declaration of principle is the key-note of the Democratic canvass in Tennessee.

The Lookout Mountain Turners had a festival here to day. Members from Chattanooga, Atlanta, Augusta, Memphis, Louisville and Cincinnati were present.

Seaborn Jones was hanged in Maury county, near Columbia, on Friday night last, by the Ku-Klux Klan. His offense was forcing a step-daughter, fourteen years of age, to share his bed, and the murder of his child, three months old. He absconded from Nashville a short time before, when the child of Heiss became known, taking the child with him, and killing it in Maury county.

Wm. Clemons was murdered on Friday night near Johnsonville, on the Tennessee river. His body was found in the morning, with his throat cut. He was a Northern man, and was killed probably for his money.

Francis Buchanan, colored, was killed in Williamson county, on Friday, by his sister-in-law, Harriet Nicol, colored. Cause, jealousy.

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—A large meeting of merchants was held yesterday, and addressed by Mr. Stewart, of Mobile, on the subject of reopening Bayou Manchac, thus giving St. Louis and the Northwest a direct water route to Mobile.

Resolutions were adopted welcoming the Mobile delegates; recommending the enterprise, and appointing a committee to accompany them to Louisville, Cincinnati, and cities of the North.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, June 2, 1868.

With abundance of currency in the vaults of our banks, they report money matters easy; but ask the borrower, he who wishes a little accommodation for a few days, let the amount be ever so small, and he will tell you that money never was closer than at present. It is true, this is not the case with all borrowers, but it is the general rule. There is much the same feelings among brokers as pervaded the old Frenchman's mind when learning that there was some doubt as to the stability of the house with which he deposited, he presented himself at the counter and demanded his balance. It was counted out to him, but he refused to withdraw it, saying, "Ha! you have him, eh? Well, I no want him. You no have him, then I want him." Those who require no assistance have it thrust upon them, while those who need it are denied. Rates of exchange are the same as on yesterday.

Gold opened in New York at 139¼, and closed at 140½. We quote at 138½ to 139 buying; selling at 140 to 140½c.

City Scrip is much the same as on yesterday. Speculators want to break down the market, and to that end are holding off or offering such figures as sellers will not entertain. This money is destined at no distant day to reach 85 or 90, and we earnestly advise those who are able, to hold on to what they have. Just so soon as the changing of scrip into bonds sets in, a very strong effort will be no doubt made to rush the former up to par. We quote nominally—buying at 70 to 73c; selling at 75 to 80c.

County Warrants are dull at last quotations, with more sellers than buyers. The only demand comes from tax-payers.

Police Scrip is in fair demand; buying at 84 to 85c, selling at 88 to 90c.

No Liverpool cotton dispatches to-day. The New York market opened quiet but steady; Low Middlings, 29½c; Middlings, 31c. At noon it was dull and prices nominal; Orleans, 30¾c; Good Middlings, 32c. There was no change at the close. Sales, 500 bales, part of which was Middlings at 30½c.

Our market was quiet throughout. Middlings would not sell at a little better figure than 28c, while the majority of holders ask 29c. We quote Middlings nominally 28 to 28½c.

The cotton crop of the United States in 1868 will, no doubt, be much larger than that of 1867, owing to the probable removal of the cotton tax and other causes. India will probably equal her crop of last year. Brazil will largely increase hers, and the accounts from Egypt and Turkey are encouraging.

We find the foregoing among the clippings of several of our exchanges. The "final clause" is rather equivocal. To whom are the accounts from Egypt and Turkey encouraging? To our planters? If so, it would be that there is a prospect of a failure, but such we imagine is not the case. It is highly probable the rival production of cotton, or as it has been developed, the great excess of production, will continue to mark the industry of India, Brazil, Egypt and Turkey, over all of whom the United States formerly preponderated. In point of quantity, we need not expect to cope with the foreign producers, in the future, as the golden eggs have been destroyed by the folly that waited upon avarice, and bit off the nose to spite the face.

Full weight Mess Pork, $29 50 to $30. Prime Mess, $27 to 27 50. Jowls, $20 to 22. Romp, scarce at $26. Bacon is quiet with fair stock. Clear Sides, 18 to 18½c. Clear Rib, scarce at 17½ to 17¾c. Rib Sides, 17 to 17½c. Shoulders, 13½ to 14½c. S. C. Canvassed Hams, 21 to 22c. Plain S. C., 19 to 20c. Plain smoked, 17½ to 18c. Lard is firm with light stock; tierces, 19½ to 20c; kegs, 20½ to 21c. Corn is rather firmer; we quote shelled at 97c to $1 00 on landing and at depot; ear corn, 95c from flatboat; from store, $1 00 to 1 05. Oats, scarce at 87 to 90c. Bran, $30 to 32 on levee. Hay, $18 00 to 20 in lots; $22 to 24 in a small way. Cornmeal is in good supply with demand light, running from the single barrel to a dray load, rarely exceeding the latter amount. We quote fresh at $4 40 to 4 50, with exceptional sales at lower figures; kilndried $4 60 to 4 75; from store about 25c higher. Old chickens scarce at $5 50 to 6 00; spring chickens, $3 50 to 4 50. Eggs, in fair demand at 18 to 20c. Flour is quiet but firm; Superfine, $8 to 8 50; X, $9 50 to 10 50; XX, $11 to 12; XXX, $12 50 to 13 50; Fancy Brands, $14 to 15 50. Old potatoes dull at $3 50 to 4 per bbl; new in demand at $5 50. Butter is abundant, choice country 28 to 30c; Choice Western 30c; common, no sale. Cheese dull—prices range from 15 to 18c for good. Coffee is firm, with fair stock; Rio, 22 to 27c; Java, 38 to 42c. Mackerel is in moderate demand; No. 1 in barrels $22; half barrels, $11 50 to 12; No. 1 kits, $2 75 to 3 00; No. 2, $2 50 to 2 75; No. 3, $2 25 to 2 50. Molasses firm; Sugarhouse, in barrels, 65c to 90c; half barrels, 80c to $1 00; kegs, $10 to 10 50. New Onions, $6 50 per barrel. Salt dull; barrels, $2 75 to 3; sacks, $2 75 to 3; Dairy Salt per barrel, $3 50. Tar in kegs per dozen, $6 to 6 50. Sugar firm; prime to choice Louisiana, 16 to 17c fair, 14 to 15c; Island Sugars, 13 to 16c. Tobacco, fancy work natural leaf, $1 00 to $1 25; bright pounds fancy, $1 to $1 25; medium, 80c to $1; common, 60 to 75c; smoking, fine and fancy, $1 to $1 25; common, 35 to 75c. Whisky is firm at $1 60 to $2 25 for common.

The Stock market is quiet. A light retail demand exists for choice beeves at 7 to 8½c; inferior, 4 to 6c gross. Sheep, active at $4 to 7 per head. Hogs dull at 7c to 8½c gross.

N. B.—It must be understood that our quotations represent prices in round lots except when otherwise stated. From small buyers an advance of about 5 per cent is required.
